How and why do wrinkles form?

As women, we animate our faces so much more-whenver we laugh, cry, chat, gossip, share secrets and spill beans! Aren't our faces so expressive? The very fact that our faces are so expressive causes expression line to be formed on our faces very quickly, without most of us even realising it...

These lines are early wrinkles that continue as expression lines on our faces even after we stop making expressions. Most of us don't realised this, but have started forming expression lines post 30. However, we continue ingnoring these expression lines. they become deeper static lines that remain on our faces at all times.

Is BOTOX a brand name?

BOTOX is registered trademark of Allergan Inc., USA.
BOTOX is manufactured and marketed by Allergan Inc., USA.

How does BOTOX work?

It's simple. BOTOX relaxes the tiny facial muscles that cause expression lines, leaving the overlying skin smooth and unwrinkle thus the line gardually smoothens out from disused and new creases are prevented from forming. Simply translated it means one has a face that looks a lot younger and fresh.

Does BOTOX act on a specific part of the face or does it act on other part too?

That's the beauty of botox. It works only on that particular area for which treatment sought. For instance, it does not affect the other muscle responsible to raise the eyebrows, and so natural expression is maintained. it will not freeze facial expressions. It Softens them and works only where one wants it to.

Are there any Side effects of BOTOX?

BOTOX is approved by US FDA for cosmetic use. There is no report of serious allergic reactions or other significant side effects such as bruising.
BOTOX has been in use for over 15 years and its safety in long-term use has been well established.
